

Lexibook® launches a new range of educational and bilingual computers for the new school year!

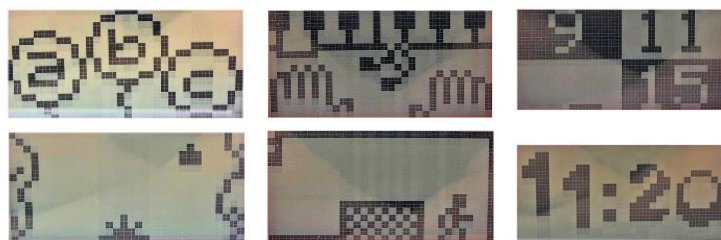

Lexibook continues to support children's learning by expanding and improving its category of educational toys with a bilingual laptop!

Reference: JC598i1 / RRP: 29,99€
Available from October 2020

This whole range of educational computers allows children to learn while having fun with their favourite characters and to support them in discovering what they learn at school: letters, spelling, vocabulary, numbers, arithmetic, music, logic and even French!

This year the content is enriched with more activities, a bigger screen and a multitude of animations! Its compact shape with a mouse, a full keyboard and a screen gives this computer a realistic design!

A bilingual educational computer with 124 activities to learn while having fun!

It has a very rich educational content with 124 activities (62 per language) divided into 6 topics: Language, Mathematics, Music, Logic, Typing and Games.

In each category there are several activities with different levels of difficulty. Bilingual, this computer allows you to have fun in both English and French!

Even more activities to learn French and quizzes to improve your knowledge!

There are 16 activities to learn spelling, pronunciation, word construction and 20 activities to discover mathematics, numbers and arithmetic in a numerical and graphical way.

The activities are presented as quizzes to improve knowledge with several levels

Fun and relaxing moments guaranteed with music and logic games!

This computer contains 5 musical activities to learn how to read musical notes and encourage children to compose pretty melodies!

Finally, the 9 puzzle, memory, running and logic games will help develop reflexes and have fun!

Lexibook strengthens its computer range with must-have licences such as Frozen 2, Paw Patrol and Spider-Man!
